Dear Harvard Schools Trustee,

The students and teachers of grades three and two/three thank you for your support over several years as a new social studies curriculum about cities was developed. We could not have created the program in place without your financial support. This year, Harvard Schools Trust funding reduced the amount parents paid to take students into Boston three times which greatly enriched and focused our program.

We thank you for investing in our efforts to make our study of cities meaningful and informative to young children. I hope you will enjoy the enclosed student letter and artwork which express youthful memories of our Boston trips.

The classrooms are silent now, after the annual rush and excitement of June. Students have their report cards, and teachers are amazed that another school year is over. We look forward to working with the trustees on projects in the future. We hope you enjoy the summer.

Sincerely,

Amy Atwood

Dear Harvard Schools Trust,

Thanks for giving us money for our field trips to Boston. I had a great time learning about the Faneuil Hall. I also liked learning about Logan Airport. Thanks!

Sincerely,

Erica Marksteiner
